Allegro

I always figure things all by my lone - - some, - I I won-der why each time I try, I'm dream - - ing, - I'm fig-ure on ev - 'ry-thing I have in sight. - - I find it just a pleasure and it's dreaming because my schemes they don't come true, - - But still it seems that I'm for-ev - er just a great de - light; - But ev - 'ry-thing I fig-ure on, I'm nev - er, nev - er right. - try-ing with a sigh; - The more I try, the more I sigh, And then you hear me cry. -

I'm always counting my chickens, - I'm always counting my chickens, - I'm always counting my

While walking up the street I met my dear old mother girl, — I tho't that I could win her, but my brain was in a whirl. — I law, — I asked her for some mon-ey but she slapped me on the jaw. — Rig asked her if she'd like to be my sweet — heart, She turned around and simply said "d then and there I knew that I was in wrong, And now I know we'll nev-er get a part!" — Oh! I'm always counting my chickens, — I'm always counting my chick-ens, — I long. —

always counting my chick-ens before they're hatched. — I'm hatched. —

CHORUS:

Ireland, dear, Never fear, some day you'll have your way.

Ireland, dear, The time is near, You'll be free from slavery.
